DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Matsumoto et al. (6,399,992).

Matsumoto et al. disclose forming trenches for isolation (11) at regions where wells (12/13) will be formed on a semiconductor substrate (10); forming an epitaxial growth layer (56) on the semiconductor substrate within the trench; and burying the trenches with insulating films to form an isolation film (Col. 7, lines 36-40).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 6-15 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: there is no description in the prior art of implementing an epitaxial growth process including a doping process to form a N type epitaxial growth layer in the first trench and a Ptype epitaxial growth layer in the second trench.

Art Unit: 2823

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
